Step by step

- 1 Fluff the 20 in. wreath: bend every tip outward and upward so no wire shows.
- 2 Optional fullness: wire the 18 in. metal ring to the back for a wider, deeper silhouette.
- 3 Cluster the berry picks at the lower left in a crescent (about 8 o'clock to 11 o'clock). Twist the stems around the frame.
- 4 Tuck the floral picks into the same crescent, angled the same way, so it reads as one designed 'swoosh'.
- 5 Thread ornament caps onto a 6 in. piece of ribbon wire and nestle them in groups of 3 (odd numbers look designed).
- 6 Make a 4-loop bow from both ribbon rolls held together (double ribbon = custom look) and leave long tails.
- 7 Wire the bow at the top of the crescent and V-cut the tails at an angle.
- 8 Step back 6 feet, check balance, and hang with a ribbon loop instead of a hook.

Make it designer: use only two colors plus one metallic, and repeat each element at least three times. A tight color story is what makes a $25 wreath look like $125.
